Act.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Roanoke, Va., October 25.—Marion Mitchell, an orphan, nineteen years old, living with the family of the Rev. P.
B. Hill, pastor of the West End Presbyterian Church, killed herself this morning by shooting herself through the heart. No cause is assigned for the act further than it is believed that slie brooded over lack of education.
She came here from Richmond last June, having been reared by the Children's Home Society of Richmond. The young woman celebrated her nineteenth birthday on Monday.

The pistol ball passed through the heart, and the body was found on the floor beside the bed. Miss Mitchell last night expressed herself as being extremely happy in her home.

interest in the bank.

H. S. Bird, of the Fredericksburg State Normal School, left here last evening by steamer for points on the lower Rappaian, neck River, where he will make educational addresses. Among the points where he will speak are Tappahannock, Saluda and Ricznod county.

A heavy frost fell here last night, but did little damage. This has been the greenest October observed here for years. Grass is still luxurious in its growth, pastures are fine and vegetables have been plentiful, but it is expected that with continued severe frost all of this will be cut short.

Mrs. Nolle Carmichael is critically ill at her home here. She was taken suddenly ill about two weeks ago, but improved rapidly until this second attack.

MYSTERY IS NOT YET CLEARED UP

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Danville, Va., October 25.—The mystery concerning the Identity of Hattis A. Bast, who was put off the Lynchburg train here last, Sunday evening by the conductor as being a lunatic, continues to grow. Up to the present time nothing has been heard by the city authorities, but they are now working upon 6 clue which may possibly throw some light upon the case,

The young girl boarded the train at Lynchburg, and the conductor noticed that her behavior was extraordinary, so he phoned to Danyille, asking for an officer to be at the depot to take her of the train and look after her. She was accordingly taken to the jail here, and upon being queried she stated she came from Stauston. An inspector from Stauston, who came here, declares she did not belong to the Staunton asylum. Until this afternoon she seemed perfectly rational, but then was overcome with hysteries.
